MENTOR WITH FRANK EBER! EXCLUSIVE MENTOR PROGRAMS AVAILABLE
DATE TBD MAY/JUNE 2020: ONLINE

AVAILABLE CLASSES (Select only one)

Watercolor Painting: Portrait and landscape

Oil Painting: Landscape

During the COVID-19 “Stay At Home” Shutdown, Frank Eber will be providing online mentor sessions to intermediate and advanced watercolor artists. Once normal workshops are possible again, the programs will be conducted in-person in Paso Robles, California. Recognizing the value of working with students one-on-one, Frank’s model will be based on individual teaching to accomplish maximum results. Even though it is only possible to work together online right now, the mentor program will be far superior to being in a small workshop space with 15 other people—where the teaching is geared towards the Individual and not the group.

Frank’s mentor program will be tailored to each student’s individual needs and artistic goals, and he will be focusing on where the student is on their artistic journey and how to bring them to the next level. As Frank’s time is limited, each interested student will be selected based upon review of their current work (work created within the past 2 years), as well as their artistic goals and expectations. It is important to Frank that each student learn the maximum within the time afforded, and take home new valuable tools to improve their work!

Frank will be offering three levels of mentorship:

Frank will work with each student via an online platform where he will meet you “face to face”, and may use multiple windows to perform demonstrations, communications and critiques. He will work with each student to assess their work, find solutions to problems within the work, and help teach new techniques and provide tools that will elevate the work and inspire the student to bring their work to the next level!
